It was a nice size main room, I liked how it was divided into sections made it easier to get to know everyone in your quadrant. It was also convenient to be able to walk different restaurants.

It was nice to have different types of vendors, would like to see a few more with different sock yarns too

8/10/2015 9:30 PM View respondent's answers

---

More would be nice but with a turnout of approximately 40 people we really cannot expect it.

8/10/2015 7:58 PM View respondent's answers

---

I appreciated the fact that there weren't a lot of vendors. We could focus on learning and helping instead of spending. :)

8/10/2015 7:47 PM View respondent's answers

I would love more vendors, but those present had good offerings

8/10/2015 6:52 PM View respondent's answers

At least one more vendor would have been a good idea.

All were terrific. Basics are always needed (I'm a newbie) and more challenging classes for crankers that are more experienced.

Thurs/Friday/Sat is a little weird, but understand that is so Sunday can be a travel day.
8/11/2015 9:18 AM View respondent's answers

Extend it to include an all day Sunday crank-in. No classes. Show off what everyone made, take pictures with new friends. Give out fun awards, like a "Cranks-a-lot" award for the most finished pieces. Or an award for the sock with two heels?
8/10/2015 10:42 PM View respondent's answers

Just long enough, to have free knitting time and time to attend classes too

Once in the class I realized that I have a 21st Century machine, so didn't really need this class. My misunderstanding; nothing that the Society did or did not do.
